

Paralegal Chilliwack

Paralegal Chilliwack - Our office as well as our lawyers are committed to meeting all the legal requirements in relation to the delivery of health care. Some of our clients include doctors of medicine, dentists, nurses, physiotherapists and chiropractors. We likewise help health care facilities' owners and operators, regardless of size.

Our firm is proud of staying up-to-date regarding all medical-legal issues, and we ensure that our clients are fully aware of any changes in law that might impact the delivery of health care.

Because of it's complex nature, several areas of law are included when dealing with health care. Because of this, a lot of our lawyers have an extensive background in corporate law, business law, tax law, litigation law, and employment and labour law. This allows them to grasp the unique requirements which are involved in a health care enterprise. So as to deliver the most effective and efficient service, we ensure that we understand and get to know our clients and their companies.
