

Lawyers in Chilliwack

Lawyers in Chilliwack - Tax law is involved in an astonishingly huge amount of daily activities and are in almost each and every day-to-day deal involving cash. Usually, there is just cause to break a deal on the way the tax laws are implicated in a partnership or merger. Utilizing their creativity and knowledge, our lawyers could often turn what used to be a deal breaker into a deal maker. We ensure that up-to-date tax recommendation is provided in both commercial and corporate transactions by communicating together with our colleagues in different practices of law. We have a broad range of clients, from high net worth individuals to all levels of governments and global corporations.

Our tax litigators are capable of handling different tax disputes and do so cost-effectively and efficiently. We make sure our lawyers are well rounded by ensuring their backgrounds are comprised of both tax and litigation. Our chartered accountants and lawyers have worked for the federal Department of Justice along with the provincial tax departments. We would rather achieve ideal resolutions rapidly, but when considered necessary our lawyers are completely capable of representing our clients in court.
