Family Law Lawyer Chilliwack - When having to deal with a dispute, common disagreements concerning the right solution may make a simple matter turn into a multifarious disaster. For you, it is essential to understand the several matters pertaining to countervailing claims, legal rights and/or obligations of the parties, the nature and value of assets involved, and the effect which personal issues might have on the case. We know that this can be a really emotional and stressful time, and our lawyers would work with you to make certain that your rights are maintained while attaining the best probable results.

Our firm looks after a variety of clients, ranging from individuals to large groups. We deal with both simple and complex problems with practicality and efficiency.

There are two main types of clients that we handle in Estate and Trust litigation: corporations and individuals with claims involving capacity problems, estates, and/or trusts and institutional and individual trustees and substitute-deciders. The main types of cases which our firm specializes in consist of administrations, bonding claims, foundation and charity litigation, will challenges, dependent's relief, guardianships, passing of accounts and mediations.

In order to resolve family situations such as property division and custody, claims for support, and other marital problems, our firm is fully prepared to handle all the challenges.

Through this emotionally draining time, the most essential thing for our company is to make sure our team is met. Utilizing our extensive experience and resource, we are able to come to a consensual resolution or to obtain the necessary court determination to ensure that the clients main objectives are achieved.

As part of a full-service, large company, our lawyers can consult with various professionals in various fields, like Tax and Wealth management. These resources help our lawyers find the most achievable and practical resolution for our clients, all while staying within budget.

We take great pride in our ability to deliver amazing results. Many of our lawyers have been recognized for their knowledge and skill, both here domestically and internationally.
