

Aboriginal Legal Services Chilliwack

Aboriginal Legal Services Chilliwack - Cases of Tort law are legal cases which handle civil wrongs. If you have suffered injury or harm as a result of somebody else's intentional wrongdoing or negligence, you may be eligible to receive damages in a tort law case.

Negligence leading to car accidents, medical malpractice and personal injury is the most common kind of tort law case. Our tort law lawyers can help you determine who charges must be laid against and who is responsible for your damages. Even parties indirectly involved with an action which caused you harm may be held responsible for damages. For instance, the delivery truck driver can be held accountable for harming you in an accident, but so can the employer that hired the driver. Several parties may, in certain circumstances, be charged with negligence for the harm that you sustain.

Our tort lawyers are experienced at trying tort law cases. If you have been badly impacted by a civil wrong, phone us for an evaluation of your case. We would assist you to understand your legal alternatives and guide you during all parts of the tort law case.
