

Chilliwack Personal Injury

Chilliwack Personal Injury - A personal injury could be a confusing and overwhelming experience. Your life could be turned upside down, emotionally, financially and physically. You need experienced and trusted advisors you can rely on. Our personal injury lawyer and senior law clerk have the specialized legal knowledge to be able to provide you with professional representation and advice. We can help you to know the legislation as it applies to your case, and we will take the time to discuss all of your alternatives. We will be there from start to finish of the personal injury legal process.

Your initial consultation with an experienced personal injury lawyer would be provided without charge. If we accept your case on a "contingency fee" basis, you may not have to pay an initial retainer fee. In those situations, you will pay nothing in legal fees if we are unable to obtain compensation for you. We will receive a percentage of the settlement if we are successful in acquiring compensation. We will ensure that you know all the particulars of the retainer agreement prior to signing.

To be able to prevent your rights from expiring, you must contact us as soon as possible following your injury. The particular time periods within which you must bring your claim could differ from a couple of days to two years.

Our extensive skill extends into the following areas of personal injury: motor vehicle accidents; dog bites and animal attacks; slip and fall injuries; long-term disability claims; and pension plan appeals.

Personal injury cases are settled out of court. The aim of our office is to be able to provide effective negotiation, while working towards avoiding costly court procedures. If it does become needed, we have experienced litigators who will represent you before all levels of the courts.
