

Traffic Lawyers Chilliwack

Traffic Lawyers Chilliwack - Our firm's Transportation Law assistance have evolved in recent years in response to the challenges experienced by the transportation business. Where previously we focused primarily on representing and advising motor carriers, like for instance trucks and buses, we currently have a varied team of transportation trade professionals offering a variety of legal assistance.

To know the emerging trends and issues in transportation law, we help our client deal with all the laws affecting their companies. We are involved in many North American transportation lawyers' associations, and also take part in their committees. We are normally called upon so as to present papers on topical problems at conferences. And we work to maintain close relations along with our peers and industry participants all around North America.
